

PASTURE AND PLENTY

MARCH 13, 2023 | OMNIVORE

HOORAY, IT'S MONDAY!

We're excited to about today's menu, y'all! Bulgogi burgers (yes, even in late Winter, they are delicious always) with bright, crunchy toppings, warming posole rojo with classic sliced cabbage and radish, and a creamy, slightly spicy, buffalo mac and cheese (doesn't it look SO good?). Plus, as an early St. Patrick's Day treat, we added in a little Irish Cream Mousse. Yum. It's going to be a good, good week!

Potatoes

PAIR WITH

the fresh and fruity El Jefe Tempranillo or

the crisp and balanced Two Women Lager from New Glarus Brewing

- 1 Preheat oven to 425°F.
- 2 Cut the potatoes (you can peel them first, if desired) into 1/2" to 3/4" thick wedges. Place potatoes on sheet pan, then toss with olive oil, salt and pepper (to taste).
- 3 Roast potatoes in the preheated oven for about 30 minutes, flipping about halfway through. Potatoes should be tender on the inside, but crispy and brown on the edges. If not tender, roast longer, checking for doneness in 5 minute increments and flipping each time you check.
- 4 While the potatoes are cooking, divide burger mix into individual portions and shape into patties. Pinch the center of the patty between your thumb and finger to make center slightly thinner — it will cook more evenly.
- 5 Heat a small amount of olive oil or butter in a skillet over medium high heat. Place burgers in skillet and cook, turning occasionally, until internal temperature (measured with an instant thermometer) reads 160°F, or to desired doneness.*
- 6 Slice buns in half and toast bun briefly in the hot oven. Give both the red cabbage slaw to redistribute the dressing and take the daikons out of their pickling liquid.
- 7 Place burger on toasted bottom bun; top with cabbage slaw, pickled daikon, kimchi aioli, and top bun. Serve roasted potato wedges alongside the assembled burgers, along with any extra aioli for dunking, and dig in!
